Didsbury chooses to build swimming pool

By Janice Harrington

A slim majority voted to allow the Town of Didsbury to borrow $1.078 million to build an indoor swimming pool facility at a plebiscite held on the issue last Tuesday.

Didsbury Town Administrator and plebiscite returning officer Mike Storey said the official ballot count put the vote at 60.2 percent for and 39.8 percent against.

Storey estimated less than 50 percent of eligible voters cast a ballot in the plebiscite, a number that surprised him.

"Considering the amount of interest in this I had expected a greater turnout," he said. "It's quite representative of the turnout Didsbury normally has for an election, but I thought there would be more because it was a vote on a specific issue."

Negotiations for the construction of the facility are expected to begin sometime this month. Estimated building time for the $1.5 million facility is set at around 6 months and Storey believes we will see the pool open by next spring.

Base cost of the pool, $1.5 million, will cover construction costs of the swimming tank, locker rooms and offices. The proposed water slide and hot tub can be added later when funds become available.

Doug Sharpe, acting Didsbury town mayor, said he was pleased to learn that Didsbury residents had chosen to build the pool.

"I'm happy. I'm happy because the thing keeps the town progressive," Sharpe said. "If small towns aren't going forward then they are going backwards. Lots of good things are happening to this town."

Sharpe said he expects the new facility will make it easier for the town to attract new development as well as new residents.

The Build Our Pool Society was also happy with the plebiscite outcome. BOP Vice President Tracy Block said while she understood the concern some residents had over the cost of the facility, she hoped everyone could now pull together for the project.

"I'm glad to see there were enough people in Didsbury with the foresight to see into the future about what Didsbury needs," she said. "I just hope now we can all work together and make this a real community project."

And now that the plebiscite is over, Block said BOP is gearing up for a real fundraising effort.

"We don't have any goals set yet," she said. "That is why we are having a meeting this Wednesday. I just know that it will be alot easier to make decisions and to get people involved now that they know there will actually be a pool."

Upcoming BOP fundraisers include an elevator movie on June 19 and a Father's Day Race on June 21. Block said the Friday night movie will begin at dusk and is free. Participants should just bring a lawn chair and a warm jacket. Funds will be raised through concession sales.

The Father's Day race includes a 10 km. run and a 5 km. walk. Registration forms are available at a number of local businesses or by calling Tracy Block, Joyce Shields, or Deanne Truwin.

BOP hopes to hold a fundraising event at least once a month from now on. Their next meeting will be held Wednesday, 7 p.m. at the Bear pit in the Ross Ford School gym.

Pool polling

Didsbury residents voted last week on a proposal to build a $1.5 million indoor swimming pool facility. The official count was 60% in favor and 40% against. Only about half of the 1,600 eligible voters turned out to cast a ballot on the issue.

Correction

The annual operating cost for the indoor swimming pool facility is estimated at 1.75 mills, not $1.75 million as was incorrectly reported in last week's Review. Annual operating expenses for the old indoor pool cost Didsbury tax payers 1 mill. We apologize for this mistake.

GO GREEN. THIS WEEK. EVERY WEEK.

Grads challenged to dream big

By Janice Harrington

Students graduating from the Didsbury High School were told to "dream big" last weekend during their commencement exercises.

Karen Widish, class valedictorian, challenged the 60 graduating students to face up to the future and live for today.

"It is now time to turn our fantasies into reality. I challenge you, fellow graduates, to dream big. We are faced with the prospect of new adventures, unexpected opportunities, success and fulfilled dreams. Work hard to achieve your goals—do not be satisfied with second best if you are capable of grasping your heart's desire.

"Although tomorrow may often seem uncertain, I encourage you to live for today. Do not fear the future, but embrace it, and all the possibilities it holds."

This valedictorian address, as well as a speech by journalist Indira Naidoo Harris, was part of the commencement ceremony for the 60 students of the class of 1992 at the Didsbury High School held at the Didsbury Memorial Complex Saturday evening. Harris who recently resigned from

I-TV in Edmonton for work to CBC Newsworld in Toronto, is herself a Didsbury High School graduate.

During the presentation ceremony, each student was presented a certificate from the federal government by Wild Rose MP Louise Feltham and as well as a certificate from the provincial government. Short descriptions of each student by Vice Principal Marty Overguard was also made as they each received congratulations from Principal Ian Taylor.

The students still have to complete provincial testing before officially receiving their high school diplomas. Graduating students expect those documents sometime this fall.

Green Future

For more than a generation, almost every Albertan has enjoyed the economy and reliability of natural gas for home heating and hot water. Today, we're all actively concerned about the environment. That's why more and more Albertans are also choosing clean-burning natural gas for:

- cooking
- barbecuing
- clothes drying
- garage heating
- outdoor lighting
- fireplaces & firepits

Soon, using natural gas to fuel our vehicles will be a choice many of us will make.

Natural gas is abundant, efficient and by far the cleanest of fossil fuels.

Chamber notes

The Didsbury Chamber of Commerce voted at its last meeting to donate $500 to the Canada Day Committee to help fund some of the projects they have planned to celebrate Canada's 125th birthday.

Plans for the July 1 community party include fireworks, an elevator movie and musical performances.

Olds/Didsbury MLA Roy Brassard was the featured guest speaker at the Chamber's meeting held last week.

Brassard spoke about a number of provincial issues including the Old Man River Dam, the Novatel loss and community bonds. Brassard also told the members of the Chamber that the electoral boundary review will likely begin all over again as the original committee, after returning to the table to solve concerns over their first proposal, had only managed to come up with 5 minority reports. A special all-party committee is expected to be struck to re-examine the boundary issue.

Chamber members were told that over $10 million will be invested in Didsbury over the next 3 to 5 years by a Canadian developer.

Gladys Ringheim, a former resident of Didsbury and the developer behind the adult living condo project soon to begin construction in the west end of town, said she plans to move back to the area and to bring a number of new developments with her.

Ringheim, who did not wish to elaborate on any of her plans, said she sees a lot of potential in Didsbury and hopes businesses will work towards the growth of the town.

Our next meeting will be held on June 12, 1992. It will be a judging meeting, so come prepared!

Accountant office opens

By Janice Harrington

Opening an accounting office in Didsbury was always an option for James Scott, but he didn't see the opportunity to do so until just short while ago.

"We had looked at Didsbury before but there was an accountant, but now I guess he is just servicing Didsbury out of his office in Olds," Scott said. "After that we were aware that there wasn't an accountant who actually had an office here."

By accountant, Scott means one who can legally do audits. And because this service was lacking in Didsbury, he and his partner Jack Edgar decided to open the office in town.

Sharing office space with Biotat since last month, Scott said the arrangement is working out well. "We try to keep expenses down. We need to do that only being open one day a week," he said.

The office out of which Scott does work for locals like Len Berscht and the Town of Didsbury, is open Wednesdays, but Scott, who got his CA back in 1969 after a 5 year articling program, said the main office in Innisfail is always open for week-round advice.

"I think it's the best thing to have someone living right here to provide this service," said Scott. "But we need to start out slowly and establish ourselves. We hope to pick up some local businesses and maybe expand in time but that is certainly down the line."

Scott, who is in the Didsbury office Wednesdays from 8:30 to 4:30 can be reached by calling 335-8548.

OPINIONS/EDITORIAL

Economics vs. environment

By Janice Harrington

"U.S. economic interests must take priority over extreme environmental concerns."

This statement was made by American President George Bush recently when explaining the American government's decision to reject a treaty to preserve endangered species and to water down another on-world climate change.

These American decisions come just days before the start of the Earth Summit in Rio de Janeiro. And in typical follow-the-leader fashion, other countries are also considering pulling out of the convention on the treaty to preserve the earth's plant and wildlife species.

As a result, another group of countries is threatening to pull out of other conventions in retaliation. The whole Earth Summit itself may be just an exercise in futility.

And truthfully, I'm not surprised. It was naive to think the economic leaders of the world would ever be far sighted enough to really consider the health of the world they live in. After all, money should come first right?

Wrong. Granted, I agree people need jobs, but at what expense? What is the purpose of getting wealthy when the world has become too depleted, too polluted to live in?

I had thought this kind of mentality died over a decade ago. I thought governments were beginning to see that renewable industrial practises are the only way to ensure the continued prosperity of the nation and the environment. I thought governments were starting to listen to the scientists, the experts, the people, and realize that we don't need quick bandaid jobs, we need a long lasting solution to our economic woes. Good grief, even the oil companies are beginning to see that.

As I said before, the problem is over money. The United States is concerned that the bio-diversity treaty will mean a financial commitment to areas of the world rich in plant and wildlife species. Good thinking. Rather than help these countries to develop and protect the valuable resources they have (some of these countries are the source of a large amount of the world's medicines), the richer countries would rather pay to put in their own industries, or pay for environmentally harmful practices like those that have led to the destruction of the rain forest.

Great way to ensure these countries can develop on their own and, down the road, won't need the continued support of other governments.

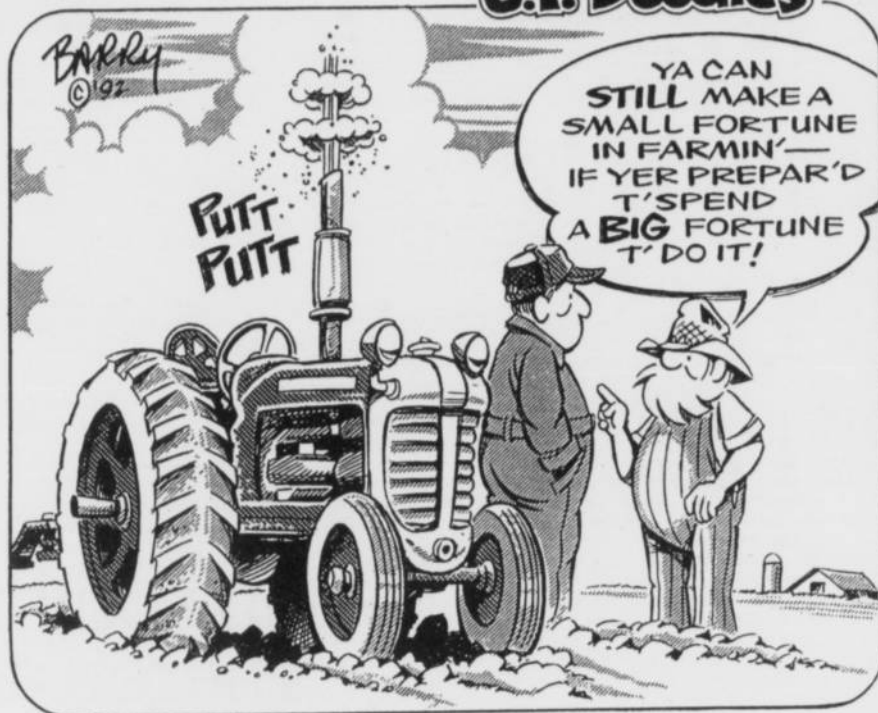

The whole process is discouraging to see. Just when you think the governments of the world may be actually looking to the future, your bubble is burst again. What's the point of holding a world conference on the environment if U.S. economic interests come before everything else?

My only hope is that other, more enlightened countries (and please God, let one of those be Canada) will go ahead with the environmental reforms and let the U.S. continue in it's self-destructiveness until it finally shoots itself.

Sweet justice.

1992 Ride for Sight

Dear Editor:

Each year, on the second weekend in June, thousands of motorcyclists across Canada gather in one location in each province to hand in donations they have collected on behalf of the Retinitis Pigmentosa (RP) Eye Research Foundation.

RP is a group of hereditary eye diseases which afflict over 100,000 Canadians and is the leading cause of blindness in Canada.

Last year, in Alberta, 1,500

motorcyclists gathered in Drumheller bringing with them $131,000; the second highest province total and increasing the national total to $900,000.

This year the Ride for Sight returns to Drumheller on the weekend of June 13 & 14. The Southern Alberta contingent will be leaving Deerfoot Mall in Calgary on Saturday, June 13, at 8:30 a.m. The Ride will travel to Airdrie for a free breakfast and then on to Drumheller to hand in the donations collected.

The more motorcyclists that get involved and help to raise funds the more dollars there will be to help find the causes and a cure for RP.

If you ride, Ride for Sight. If not, please give generously.

For more information contact your local motorcycle dealer or call Debbie Fox in Calgary at 242-7442.

Documentary fight continues

Dear Sir:

I refer to a letter, published May 6, 1992 in various community newspapers, over the signature of Brian McKenna, Director; and Arnie Gelbart, Producer, of the CBC Series, "The Valour And The Horror."

The record should be corrected. The authors of this letter state that under the sponsorship of The War Amputations of Canada, I have undertaken an expensive campaign to discredit the series and ultimately get it banned.

The only expense, thus far, has been to place a number of notices in newspapers. Where there was a charge, it came from my own pocket.

I wonder how your readers will feel when they realize the reference made by Mr. McKenna and Mr. Gelbart to a letter I wrote praising the series, is misleading in the extreme. That letter referred only to Part I dealing with Hong Kong Veterans. The letter states that, "I am at a loss to cite a single historical error."

I have filed an 80-page submission with the CRTC. It singles out at least 17 major errors—and quotes the historical source from a bibliography of 32 well-known authors. (Obviously McKenna and Gelbart did not wait until they had seen my submission. They may wish they had!)

The letter suggests that "overwhelmingly" 6,000,000

Canadians shared my reaction to the first film, which was positive indeed.

Spokespersons for the CBC have been stating that the mail they have received has been positive. Some of it was not. In fact, a considerable number of people have sent me copies.

McKenna and Gelbart are wrong again in saying that we want the film banned. We are asking for a public review. If that review indicates that the producers of the film are right, it should stay in circulation, including exposure to school children which was one of the objectives.

Yours sincerely,

Stripper ruling reprehensible

Dear Editor:

The Don Getty government meted out a ruling May 1 that will continue dragging society down to new levels never before reached. It announced May 1 that it will continue its reprehensible policy of passing out licenses to formed by government and stacked with profiteers in the booze industry. Indeed the fox had been sent to guard the hen-house.

GOVERNMENT NEWS

Toward 2000 together

Hon. Roy Brassard, MLA
Olds-Didsbury Constituency

Last August, Premier Getty invited Albertans to help shape the province's economic future by taking part in Toward 2000 Together. The response has been tremendous.

Albertans from all walks of life have shown they are interested in working with government to build on our province's considerable strengths and prepare for the economic challenges that lie ahead.

The next step in developing a new economic strategy is the Premier's Conference on Alberta's Economic Future. Over 500 delegates representing a cross-section of stakeholder groups from every region of the province met in Calgary on May 28 and 29 to consider the issues identified over the last nine months, exchange ideas and work together to set new directions for the province.

The Premier's Conference will build on the substantial input received through the Toward 2000 Together public consultations. Workshops were held on six themes--the future of resources; how to make the best use of technology, innovation and knowledge; the role of training, education and life-long learning; competing in the global economy; the environment and sustainable development; and the community based economic development.

Toward 2000 Together has been an extremely successful public consultation process. A total of 20,000 information packages have been distributed to business, labour, local government educational institutions and individual Albertans.

In response, over 3,400 completed questionnaires have been returned. At the six Regional Public Forums, 118 Albertans made presentations, often on behalf of their communities or associations. A total of 248 formal briefs and presentations have been submitted, many of which were prepared by groups that organized Toward 2000 Together workshops for their members. As well, 200 experts attended seven Round Tables sponsored by the Banff Centre for Management.

Two summary reports have now been released; one provides a digest of the input from Regional Public Forums, questionnaires and written submissions and the second summarizes the discussions that took place at the Round Tables. Both reports will serve as part of the background information for the discussions at the Premier's Conference.

Toward 2000 Together is an open, two-way process. The government will use the public input and the discussions at the Premier's Conference in preparing a draft economic strategy to take Alberta into the twenty-first century. The public will then be asked to comment on the draft strategy before it is finalized.

I would like to thank those of you have participated in Toward 2000 Together. If you would like a copy of either summary document, or more information, please call my office or Toward 2000 Together at 1-800-861-PLAN.

I have invited the Honourable Ernie Isley to visit our constituency to discuss agricultural issues with us. He has agreed, and will be here on June 8th, 1992 from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. at the new clubhouse at the Carstairs Golf Club. Please join us in our discussion of current agricultural concerns. If you require more information, or need to contact me, please call our constituency office at 556-3132 or me, Edmonton office at 422-0141 (collect).

MP's column

ENVIRONMENT WEEK '92:
June 1-7

The three R's of the 1990's are: Reduce, Recycle, and Reuse--the catch words for everyone who cares about our environment.

People in Wild Rose are right at the forefront of environmental concern. Environment Week celebrations include:

1. Watch out for the yellow fish painted near the storm drains. These are to remind us all not to pour hazardous wastes or chemicals into our drains or into the sewers--protect the Bow River.

2. Walk or bicycle to work during Environment Week and earn a button--or better still, reuse last year's button.

3. Tune into Cable 10, 5-7 p.m. during Environment Week for "Banff National Park Presents." A series of environmental films.

These same environmental films and others can be seen at the Video Festival on Friday, June 5, at the Information Centre Theatre, 224 Banff Avenue, 1-4 p.m.

4. June 2 & 3 at 8:30 p.m. the Precipice Theatre will perform, "A Water Shed Of Tears," at the Banff Hot Springs Pool.

5. June 6, 10 a.m. - 4 p.m., behind the Fire Hall, there will be a toxic waste round-up and paint exchange. Organized by the Banff Recycling Society. (Ask about the plastic and metal drop next weekend.)

6. June 6 & 7, at 11 a.m., one hour guided walks led by Cave and Basin interpreters, leave the Cave and Basin Centennial Centre and walk around the marsh.

AIRDRIE

Airdrie Grass Roots, the Airdrie Recycling Committee and the City of Airdrie, working together, have organized:

1. June 6, from 10 a.m. - 6 p.m., at the Towerlane Mall, an Environmental Fair.

2. June 6, at 11 a.m., 15 East Lake Hill, Ribbon Cutting--Grand Opening of the permanent Recycling Depot. This will be the kick-off for a recycling drive.

During the Green Plan Consultation Process, Canadians spoke about their desire to take part in cleaning Canada up and that's what we need--everyone working together. Due to the positive response of individuals and groups across the country, Environment Canada has extended the Environmental Partners Fund for three more years (until 1997) and committed an additional $20 million. This fund was set up to support new, community-based projects that protect, enhance and restore the environment. In Cochrane, for example, the Cochrane Wildlife Reserve's "Swift Fox Project" aims to re-establish the Swift Fox in its original habitat. Now, community-based awareness projects aimed at increasing public involvement in environmental action are also eligible for funding. Organizers for Canada's Environment Week have chosen the theme, "This Week, Every Week."

So join in, become environmentally aware and environmentally responsible. Start at home with a "Waste Audit"--recycle clothes and toys that are not being used; reduce the amount of water, electricity, and gas used; reuse canvas shopping bags to carry home groceries. There are so many good ideas to share that it's fun to meet others and compare notes on ways we can all pitch in and help protect our community, our country, and our world.

There are environmental groups right across Wild Rose. They include: the Acme Earth Club, Grass Roots Crossfield, Irricana Recyclers, the Sundre Recycling Committee, Canmore Recycling and Earth Watch, Cochrane Environmental Action Committee, the Lake Louise Green Action Society and, of course the Airdrie and Banff groups mentioned earlier. Call Lisa, at 1-800-372-9587, for the names and numbers of the contact people who are working hard to help us all.

During Environment Week the world will be watching the beginning of Earth Summit in Rio De Janeiro, Brazil. At the head of the Conference, organized by the United Nations World Commission on Environment and Development, is Canada's Maurice Strong, who is hoping for a breakthrough. The organizers of the Conference have a simple pledge for each person on our planet, it is, "I pledge to make the earth a secure and hospitable home for present and future generations." They hope that they can get many of us, as world citizens, to take and sign this pledge.

Fjellsyn Lodge #591 held their meeting on May 25. President Noreen opened the meeting after the singing of the National Anthems.

Noreen welcomed one guest, Gladys Jorgenson of Olds.

Plans have been finalized for the camp-out at Bergen on June 19-21. The lodges from Calgary and Red Deer have been invited.

Don, Ruby, Marion and Helen conducted the bingo at Mount View Lodge in May and reported that they had an enjoyable afternoon.

After the meeting we enjoyed a slide presentation of Oppland, including Lillehammer and Gjøvik.

From Mel and I, our appreciation to the lodge for their understanding help to us during Annabelle's sickness and death.

At the April meeting seven new members were initiated into the lodge. We welcome Mardi Sather of Bowden, Inga and Henning Norre and Hilda and Herb Anderson, all of Olds.

We welcome to the first Son's of Norway Youth Committee members, Lisa Kamp of Carstairs and Ryan Porter of Calgary.

The lodge will again help with the registration fee for any child or grandchild of a Son's of Norway member or any child who would be interested in attending the Culture camp - up to six children. If interested please get in touch with any member.

Ruby had sent sympathy cards to Alma Wick, Peter and Elsie Wick, Sonia and Bob Kennedy, Mel and Mil Haakonson and Eve and Larry Haakonson. Get well wishes were sent to Ruby Brunski - glad to see you back at work Ruby.

Once again the Syttendi Mai celebration was a huge success with sold out attendance. We are pleased to report that the Curling Club ladies - who did the catering - said they like our parties, as we are friendly, helpful and clean - now that's a feather in our hats!! Our next meeting will be on June 21, at the Camp-out.

Camps mix summer fun and learning

The summertime blues won't be playing for children or teens coming to Olds College this July and August.

Four interesting and challenging summer camps are being organized by the Physical Education and Recreation Department for anyone aged 8 to 17 years old. Among the choices are: Soccer Camp, Creative Kids - Art Camp, Horsemanship/Riding Camp, and Youth Drama Camp.

Leisure Program Manager Jo Ann Parliament believes the camps will work well to enhance skills the youths and children may already possess. "These camps will be of particular interest to those who already have a bit of experience in areas like soccer and horsemanship. They will receive information on and be able to advance in both the practical and theoretical aspects of the sport or hobby that interests them the most," Parliament said.

Parliament said all camps will be taught by qualified, experienced instructors ready to share their expertise in a friendly, unobtrusive environment easily lending itself to new learning discoveries. "The Alberta Soccer Association is sending down some of its finest instructors to help in that five day camp, while Olds College's own Equine Instructor and Certified Western Coach, J.P. Forget, will teach the Horsemanship and Riding skills," she said.

For those who prefer to be challenged creatively, the Youth Drama Camp and Creative Kids Arts Camp will serve as tempting options. Instructors Patti Kemp and Robert Greenwood introduce participants to the sensory world of the Arts by channeling acting, sketching, and painting skills into creative expression.

Kemp, who has experience in both children's art and fashion illustration, is now currently working as a graphic artist at Olds College. Greenwood holds numerous arts and culture awards stemming from his vast background of theatrical work in places such as Britain, Hong Kong and Belgium.

Western hospitality at Hay City

The west will soon be winning its way into the hearts and stomachs of many an Olds resident with the opening of the Hay City Saloon next week.

Situated in 7,100 square feet of the old Olds Co-op building, the business will feature a combination of Prime Rib and Tex Mex (typically old-west) style cuisine complete with bar service and plenty of dance space to enjoy the occasional live entertainer.

Operating a wild west restaurant and saloon is miles away from any sort of occupation co-owner, Bob Delong, has ever worked at . . . and maybe that was the attraction.

Delong, an Olds native, worked pipeline industry for some time before deciding to become a restaurant entrepreneur. "It just felt like the right thing to do. We went around to a couple of places and decided what might go over well here is a business more along the western theme," Delong says.

While both Delong and his partner Sheldon Foss of Red Deer plan on keeping close tabs on how the business is doing, the managerial tasks will be undertaken by Janet Strabel.

"We would like to stay open seven days a week, from 11 a.m. to 2 a.m. on weekdays and whatever the liquor board will allow us to do on weekends," Delong explains. "Entertainment might not be brought in until a later date because we want to see how the restaurant part of the operation is going first before bringing in entertainers."

But, as Delong says, before any of this can happen a lot of work has to be done. Transforming a former grocery store into a restaurant and bar operation doesn't happen overnight, and both Delong and Foss have been working diligently since March to accomplish the ideal setting.

"Everything takes extra time . . . there was, for example, no kitchen facilities available to us and that all has to be built more or less from scratch."

If you're waiting in anticipation for some good, western grub set in surroundings flavored to the wild west, June 10 will likely be the day, Delong says, however, Hay City's Grand Opening celebrations won't likely take place until later this month.

If you would like more information about any of this year's summer camps, or are interested in registering, please contact Olds College's Leisure Services Manager, Jo Ann Parliament at (403) 556-8217.

Cremona-Chatham 4-H exchange

The Canadian 4-H Council has received final approval for the Summer Exchange Program from the Secretary of State. As a consequence, the Cremona Multi 4-H Club has been matched with a 4-H Homemakers Club from Chatham, Ontario.

The 10 girls from the Chatham and Blenheim areas will arrive in Calgary on July 9th for a 10 day period. Some activities that they will take in are the Exhibition and Stampede, local industries, farms and museums, and mountain camping. The return trip for the 3 girls and 7 boys from the Cremona, West Didsbury and West Carstairs clubs will begin August 4th.

The Cremona Club is in the process of fundraising. They had a very successful beef supper in April and would like to thank the following businesses and people for donations of food: Beatrice Dairies, Cochrane I.G.A., Cremona General Store, Sundre I.G.A., and Ester McMullen.

Ticket sales for the bronze by local artist Diane Anderson and print by Lorraine MacLiboiron are going well. The bronze will be on display at the Carstairs Steer Show on June 10th. Draw to be made at Cremona Day on July 1st.

Be sure to enter the "guess the weight of a Texas Longhorn Steer" contest also at the Steer Show.

School makes completion donation

The student council of the Hugh Sutherland Junior High School made a donation to the Carstairs Community Hall last week to help pay for completion costs on the facility.

The $250 raised by the student was presented to the Carstairs Chamber of Commerce at their last meeting.

This money, along with other grants totalling $80,000 received for the project, will be used to pay for carpeting, furniture, a dance floor, sound system, ice machine, drapes and an oven for the community facility.

An application for a $150,000 Canadian Culture grant made by the community hall association last year was denied. Other funds to build the new hall were raised through local contributions of cash and volunteer labor.

Construction of the new hall began last September, and was expected to be completed last weekend in time for the Carstairs graduation ceremonies.

The old hall has been closed down and is in the process of being sold.

Final finishing of the hall, which include the parking lot and the installation of the sound system are estimated to be completed later this month.

Safety fluid to make new jobs in Sundre

By Janice Harrington

A new product which will revolutionize the safety of workers and the environment in the oil industry was announced earlier this week in Sundre.

Dwight Loree, president of Trisol Inc., said extensive study of a fire retardant fracturing fluid done in cooperation with the Alberta Research Council has allowed them to begin commercial marketing of the product.

Loree, whose background is in oil ground servicing said he saw an opportunity to create a product such as this when he realized how dangerous hydrocarbons used in the oil industry were.

"We wanted to develop a fire-retardant additive that was non-combustible," Loree said. "So we started a joint project with the Alberta Research Council to study all the condensates in western Canada. Now that work is complete and we can begin marketing the product."

Loree said the product has been deemed environmentally acceptable by the Alberta Research Council. That means that studies have shown that the fluid is not harmful to the ozone and can be recaptured at drilling sites for recycling.

Development of commercial reserves of this product will be helped along by a $500,000 repayable contribution by Western Economic Diversification Canada. Louise Feltham, MP for Wild Rose said the government was pleased to help with Trisol's project.

"We are very enthusiastic about this project. It's a revolutionary step in safety in the oil industry," Feltham said. "Trisol's fire retardant frac fluid is expected to save lives and protect valuable drilling equipment from fires and explosions that too often occur at the drilling site."

Feltham said the additive is also expected to boost the use of hydrocarbons and by that, increase the amount of reserves that can be recovered out of the ground.

Loree added that the additive can also be mixed with other types of solvents such as varsol and lacquers to reduce their volatility.

The $500,000 loan from WD will be used to increase the company's inventory of the product so that it can be marketed throughout the U.S. Loree said the company is now working on plans to build a commercial plant near Sundre to produce the fluid.

Project costs are estimated at $1.7 million dollars and more than 5 permanent jobs are expected to result.

Arson suspects arrested

By Janice Harrington

Five Rocky Mountain House residents have been arrested as a result of an arson investigation near Caroline.

Wayne Harley Redcalf (23), Brian Lynn Kruger (28), Trevor Lloyd Howse (26), Jason Walter Hughes (21) and Wyatt Drew Harden (23) have all been charged with numerous offences, including break, enter and theft in relation to a fire which destroyed a mobile trailer home 1/2 km. south of Caroline earlier this month.

Sundre RCMP said their detachment, along with the detachment from Rocky Mountain House, the Caroline Fire Department and the Red Deer Fire Commissioner's office all cooperated on the investigation.

Damage to the trailer and contents has been estimated at approximately $100,000.

One man charged in the incident has already plead guilty to one count of break and enter with intent to commit an indictable offence. Brian Kruger is currently in custody awaiting sentencing which is scheduled for June 3.

The other suspects will appear in court for plea next month.

Local joins annual canoe trip

A local Didsbury boy attending Saint John's School of Alberta, will be part of a canoe brigade, starting this June 7th.

Nick Chios, along with other grade 9 and 11 students will spend the trip paddling south through Deschambau Lake.

The wilderness canoe trip will be following a very exciting route this year that will prove to be the experience of a lifetime for the students. Traveling north to Beauval in northern Saskatchewan to train, the trip begins on the Beaver River which flows into historic Lac Ile a Crosse. They will then join the Churchill River system and paddle a series of lakes and rivers on the Churchill River, which they will follow for several weeks on route to the village of Sandy Bay near the Saskatchewan/Manitoba border. The brigade will end the trip by paddling south on the Nemi or Muckoman River to the Hanson Lake highway located south of Deschambau Lake.

The total distance traveled is just over 500 miles or 820 km and will take approximately 24 days to complete.

There will be a maximum of 60 portages or runnable rapids. The obstacles encountered on the Churchill River section have well worn trails from the many summer canoeists who visit the area each year. The trip is suited to the intermediate level canoeist with many challenges presented by the excitement and perhaps a few wet voyagers as the students pit their skills against the rapids. Safety is a top priority, however, in all aspects of the trip.

Students and staff have been training and preparing for weeks. Much effort and care has been put into this adventure in the wilderness. The route follows much of the early voyageurs trails that opened up Western Canada.

Local musician to travel U.S.

By Janice Harrington

News of local talent being chosen to tour world wide is becoming old hat in Didsbury.

The town, which boasts one of the best music programs in the county, is getting used to hearing such news, but that doesn't mean being chosen isn't incredibly exciting for Marla Reimer.

Reimer, the latest Didsbury

High School student to announce an upcoming concert tour, is looking forward to putting in a grueling 8 to 10 concerts per week over the summer months.

"I'm very excited about going," the 17-year-old Reimer said. "It's kind of demanding but it's really worth it."

Reimer will be joining the Continental Singers, a well-known Christian concert organization which has concert groups in many countries around the world. Reimer, chosen to join the group after an audition at her local church, will play keyboards for the group this year as it travels to various venues around the United States.

This is Reimer's second year with the Continental Singers. Last year she traveled around Eastern Europe with the group.

Reimer, who has been playing the keyboards for 12 years, leaves June 8 for the 3 month tour. She will not be returning to Didsbury for quite awhile because she will be starting school at the George Fox College in Portland, Oregon the day after the tour ends.

Reimer received an $800 scholarship to study music at the college.

Alberta beef producers launch environment week initiatives

Alberta beef producers are launching two major initiatives to address environmental issues during Environment Week, May 31 to June 6, 1992.

"Farmers and ranchers understand the importance of ensuring that the land is protected for the use of future Albertans. We are also committed to providing facts about the beef cattle industry to dispel myths about the role of beef cattle production and the role of cattle in world food and environmental issues," says Alberta Cattle Commission General Manager Gary Sargent.

The Just Facts media information kit is being updated and redistributed. Just Facts is comprised of concise and factual information drawn from scientists. The kit is designed to be an effective reference tool for media. It was first published in 1990 and has been extremely popular with media across Canada. Requests have also been received from U.S. media.

The other initiative is based on the Environmental Risk Assessment, recently concluded by a firm of consultants on behalf of the Commission. This is the first time that a Canadian farm commodity group has carried out such an assessment.

The study used three sources of information: a scientific literature review, interviews with resource experts, and assessments of a sampling of individual ranch and feedlot operations.

The areas of range condition, the impact of cattle operations on wildlife habitat, manure handling and disposal by feedlots, and water contamination by cow wintering areas were addressed.

"In general terms, the assessment indicates that beef cattle production is compatible with the environmentally sound, sustained use of the land, water and air resources on which we rely," says Sargent.

The ACC will use the study to guide environmental policies in areas such as legislative action, producer education and public relations. Summaries of the report are available from the Alberta Cattle Commission office in Calgary, 275-4400.

Farm income jumps

Canadian farmers can expect to see a significant jump in realized net farm income in 1992 as a result of increased government program payments and rising world wheat prices.

In its most recent forecast, Agriculture Canada economists expect realized net farm income to jump by 40 per cent this year to $4.5 billion. 1991 realized net farm income stood at $3.2 billion.

And for a change, there is positive news for Alberta producers who could see their incomes jump a whopping 111 per cent to $606 million. In Saskatchewan, incomes are expected to rise 95 per cent to $828 million annually. Overall, realized net farm income for the western provinces is forecast to increase 74 per cent.

Realized net farm income is commonly defined as the revenue a farmer receives from livestock or grain sales, plus income support programs, minus operating costs. Income was significantly affected in 1991 as a result of the export subsidy war between the U.S. and the European Community. The continuing use of export subsidies on the world market lowered prices received by Canadian farmers to depression era levels.

The increase in realized net farm income for 1992 is largely a result of increased support for revenue and crop protection programs such as the Net Income Stabilization Account (NISA) and the Gross Revenue Insurance Program (GRIP). Livestock producers are also expected to see government support through the National Tripartite Stabilization Program.

Propane fridge warning issued

With the first summer long weekend approaching, Alberta Labour is issuing a reminder that could save your life—a neglected natural gas or propane refrigerator in your summer cottage could be giving off deadly amounts of carbon monoxide.

Ken Fenning, Chief Inspector with Plumbing and Gas Standards, says a potential problem exists in older model gas refrigerators which haven't been inspected or serviced on a regular basis. He says these are often used in vacation cottages and other remote areas where electricity may not be readily available, and natural gas or propane are the preferred energy sources.

"Over time, the burner on an unvented refrigerator can be blocked by debris from rust, spider webs and household dust and lint. When that happens, the combustion is affected and there is a potential for the refrigerators to produce lethal amounts of carbon monoxide."

In past years, deaths and serious injuries have resulted from poorly maintained appliances of this type.

Of particular concern is a refrigerator produced between 1933 and 1957, under the brand name Servel.

Although the original company which manufactured the Servel refrigerators has been out of business for some time and that particular appliance hasn't been produced for more than 30 years, Fenning says there are still some in operation in Alberta. As a precaution, he says all unvented gas refrigerators should be located outside to a shed or garage, not attached to the living quarters. If possible, they should be replaced.

Fenning urges owners of any propane or natural gas refrigerator to have it checked regularly by a certified gasfitter, especially if it has been moved or left unused for an extended period of time.

MOUNT VIEW LODGE NEWS

By Annie Caush

Hi all! Well after some more winter, I think we have spring! As usual we keep busy here and are looking forward to some extra activities during "Senior's Week" in June.

The May birthday party was hosted by Auxiliary members Mrs. Grace deJong and Mrs. Nancy Herbert. The entertainment was by Mrs. Joyce Doktor of Carstairs singing for us. Grace joined her for several Dutch songs. A lovely afternoon was "topped off" with cake and ice cream. The only person with a May birthday was Mr. Ernie Dawson.

The "Sons of Norway" group visited us recently and called several games of bingo and then treated us to the "goodies" they brought. Thanks so much!

Our newest resident is Mrs. Margaret Brown. We welcome you and hope you soon feel "at home".

In hospital we have Mr. Lenz. We hope to see you home real soon.

Crime of the week

This week Crime Stoppers needs your help in solving two residential break, enter and thefts, that occurred in the Mountview area of Red Deer, Alberta during the early evening hours on March 5th, 1992.

A lone male entered the first residence and caused considerable damage and stole numerous articles which included a Zenith V.C.R., clothing and liquor. This suspect then entered the second residence leaving a jacket and liquor taken from the first residence. The suspect was interrupted by the owner of the residence and fled residence through the front door taking with him approximately $7,000 worth of jewelry and a Canon Sureshot camera. The suspect is described as a white male between the age of 15-17 years old.

If you have any information on these thefts call Crime Stoppers now at 340-TIPS, that's 340-8477, or call toll free at 1-800-661-TIPS. Remember, the calls to Crime Stoppers are not traced or recorded and you never have to give your name. Crime Stoppers will pay up to $2,000 for information leading to the arrest of suspects in any unsolved crimes. Crime Stoppers serves all of Central Alberta.

Don Getty govt. enforced regulations that allot more dignity to animals than to our children. It listened to the Animal Rights People's concerns as to whether nude bars are a proper venue for the raising of animals. Consequently animals, reptiles, and birds are now banned from appearing on the platform of a nude bar. The Getty government apparently was able to disregard the thousands of letters from a concerned public that ran 20-1 in favor of a ban on nude bars--as reported in The Calgary Sun, Nov. 18, 1990. There is increasingly an awareness of the risk of AIDS and drunk sex is as dangerous as drunk driving.

Our family oriented government claims it is 'cleaning up' the naked displays in bars by enforcing 'strict regulations' requiring nude bars to put a warning sign on the doors, saying, 'Nude dancers appear within these premises.' A more appropriate warning sign on the doors would read, 'Danger to women and children--Male patrons may be leaving premises tanked up and turned on.' Nude shows and booze present a lethal combination.

In a democracy, we had thought our elected representatives were to answer to their constituents. We do not want decisions to be made for us by those profiteering from promoting booze--important decisions like those relating to nude bar shows which strike at commitment, the heart of a healthy family.

Does Mr. Don Getty really think we need such a dehumanizing marketing tool as nude shows in bars to promote the sale of booze, which results in more slaughter on the highways, increased alcohol addiction, more jails for alcohol related offences, job losses, alcohol treatment centers, increased medical care, increased Social Assistance for family problems? A new U.S. study shows every dollar the government makes from alcohol sales costs the taxpayers 11.1 dollars--amounting to 48 billion dollars paid by taxpayers in this area since Mr. Getty became premier.

It will take a lot of public input in the form of letters to Mr. Getty for him to change his mind but he knows full well another election is coming up.

Audrey Jensen, Stettler
